BIOGRAPHY

Ms. Steinberg serves the Firm as independent local counsel. With her varied background and experience, she offers a unique perspective when assisting clients with government investigations and regulatory matters, including subpoenas from state and federal agencies, internal corporate investigations, and civil and criminal enforcement proceedings.

Justice Department Prosecutor

Corey Steinberg recently left the U.S. Department of Justice, where she served as an Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) in the Southern District of Florida, the Northern District of Georgia, and the District of Massachusetts.

During her 19 years with the Justice Department, Ms. Steinberg represented the United States in many cases, including complex RICO, narcotics and violent crime investigations, Title III wiretaps, and matters involving money laundering, extortion, and wire and mail fraud.

Wall Street & SEC Experience

Ms. Steinberg began her legal career on Wall Street working in-house at several major brokerage firms, including Merrill Lynch, CIBC World Markets, and UBS (formerly PaineWebber).

During her tenure on Wall Street, Ms. Steinberg provided continuing education to listed and over-the-counter traders, coordinating annual regulatory examinations of trading desks conducted by the SEC, the NYSE and NASD, and investigating investor complaints.

Additionally, Ms. Steinberg served as the anti-trust compliance officer for UBS/PaineWebber, tasked with ensuring ongoing compliance with the terms of a DOJ antitrust settlement agreement.
